

Limits of Stability

Description

The LOS quantifies the maximum distance a person can intentionally displace their Center of Gravity (COG), i.e. lean their body in a given direction without losing balance, stepping, or reaching for assistance. The measured parameters are reaction time, COG movement velocity, directional control, end point excursion, and maximum excursion.

